It's only design when it's really authentic

A new creative force

Norstone continues to brighten up home interiors with the development of a new high-end line of furnishings manufactured in France. In 2014, "NORSTONE ÉDITION" was born. This new entity preserves some of the fundamentals but it also makes room for a wholly innovative vision.

Every creation is a subtle blend of careful design and a predetermined function.

By tuning in to your needs, our renowned designers set about designing show-stopping furnishings that reflect true French ingenuity. Every detail, every function, every element comes together to exceed your expectations and add a whole new dimension to your interiors.

We are very pleased to introduce our new NORSTONE ÉDITION collection.

Our furniture, our identity

NORSTONE ÉDITION relies on the craftsmanship of French artisans and also on the creative genius of its designers. Each piece is the culmination of the work of a designer who masters that famous French Touch. All of our pieces proudly bear the signature of the designer.

This is how we ensure that all of our furniture has a specific personality, so each NORSTONE ÉDITION piece is a unique addition while maintaining a contemporary design esthetic. Each one stands apart and gives you a glimpse into the creativity of the designer. This is the philosophy behind everything that NORSTONE ÉDITION produces.

Each piece is the creation of a renowned designer, and that's what makes it unique.

The French Difference

For the first time, NORSTONE is offering a line of furniture entirely manufactured in France. With NORSTONE ÉDITION, our desire is to surround ourselves with the greatest talents our country has to offer. So we put the best talents in France to work, ensuring that quality of manufacturing and distinctly personalized pieces are the key words to describe this new collection from NORSTONE ÉDITION.

StoneGloss Technology

Both Valmy and Trocadéro by NORSTONE ÉDITION feature StoneGloss finishing for longevity, unalterable reflective shine, and uniqueness in no less than 34 colour options. What's more, StoneGloss is unique because the manufacturing material itself is tinted before the piece is made, so the colour is exceptionally rich. Any streaks that might occur can then also be easily repaired. StoneGloss literally clothes the piece it is applied to.

Environmental standards

Our creations do not release toxicity into the consumer's home. Our materials and our products are recommended by FCBA (French acronym for Forests, Cellulose, Wood, and Furnishings) and meet European standards. We do not contribute to South American deforestation, since we only use PEFC wood. This means we use European wood essences from environmentally managed forests.

We promote eco-design. This means that product recycling is part of the very design process.

Environmental design means that we not only practice unwavering respect for the environment, but we also believe in products whose quality is beyond reproach. We have chosen these techniques and procedures because they provide perfectly satisfying substitutes for less environmentally-friendly methods.

Functionality that makes great design sense

Our designers assure us that they don't create anything without starting from an idea with true promise. Our work goes beyond a mere exercise in style limited to an esthetic proposal. We devote our initial research to the evolving interior design needs of our potential consumers so we can understand what they need and what they want. This approach yields designs that are exclusively destined to improve and enhance living space.

Natural manufacturing procedures

Our goal is to constantly offer contemporary creative design. Therefore, we require our builders to demonstrate the same commitment to modernity and high-performance.

As a result, when choosing the companies we work with, we are very demanding when it comes to product quality and sound environmental policies. We work with companies who receive the "Living Heritage Company" label (EPV in French) of the French government, recognizing excellence in artisanal and industrial expertise.

An outstanding colour palette

Because our mission is to offer excellence in interior design products, form and substance simply cannot represent our only tools. That's why we offer each of our pieces in no fewer than 34 different colour options. With such a range, you'll have no problem beautifully integrating new pieces into your existing space. With the perfect choice of colour, your new acquisition will fit wonderfully in its new space.

VALMY, the first in a new line

To accompany the launch of this "edition" line, NorStone is happy to introduce Valmy, the first TV stand designed and created for curved screen television sets. With its supple and rounded lines, Valmy aligns beautifully with the contours of your set. It has two curved drawers that stretch the entire width to correspond perfectly with the shape of today's flat screens.

TROCADÉRO, candid simplicity

The TROCADÉRO is built around the most contemporary idea of all: simplicity. It has a simplified design that will fit perfectly in your interior space and will complement any ambiance you're looking to enhance. To take this idea even further, you can hang it directly on the wall, and even remove the wheels for a totally sleek look. Choose one of 34 colours, so your piece will fully melt into your room's design and you can then put all the emphasis on your decorative accents in that space. This NORSTONE ÉDITION innovation is the perfect piece to enhance the rest of your interior, and you can even deploy it strategically to add a touch of colour and showcase its captivating design.
